NEBRASKA ENDORSED ROOSEVELT

Say He Is Right In His Fight With Harriman--Loeb Says No Names Were Mentioned In The Discussion Of Opposition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., April 5.—Secretary Loeb declared today that no names were mentioned at the White House yesterday when reference was made to some public men who had been present at a dinner and had told the story of an alleged combination to accomplish the defeat of the President's policies in the coming presidential campaign.

Nipped in Bud
Sec. Loeb emphasized his belief that the publicity which has been made of the intrigues against the interests of the President would "nip the whole scheme in the bud" before the campaign of 1908 was fully on.

Endorsed Roosevelt
Lincoln, Neb., April 5.—The Nebraska senate today adopted a resolution endorsing the position of Roosevelt in his controversy with Harriman declaring the confidence of the senate in the President's motives. The house also passed the same resolution.

puna Sought Death.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oshkosh, Wis., April 5.—The lifeless body of Frederick S. Olds of Wauwatu was found suspended by a strap from a water pipe in the cellar of St. Mary's hospital here this morning. There is no doubt but that the case is one of suicide though Olds was suffering from incurable cancer and could have lived but a few weeks longer.

Suffering Unbearable

TWO HUNDRED GRAFT CASES INVALIDATED

If Decision of Judge Brazee of Milwaukee Is Sustained by Supreme Court.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., April 5.—Following on the heels of Judge Brazee's decision that the Milwaukee grand jury was invalid under Wisconsin laws, the attorney for Fire Chief Clancy, now a defendant in a so-called graft trial, announced that he will test the validity of the indictment he is fighting. Brazee decided last yesterday afternoon that where there are circuit courts, grand juries have been wrongfully drawn and if his decision is upheld in the Clancy case, two hundred graft cases now on trial or listed for trial will be thrown out of court.

WEDDED AT TRINITY CHURCH YESTERDAY

Miss Kate Green and Charles Eau Clair Joined in Matrimony—Marriage at Presbyterian Parsonage.

At four o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss Kate Maria Green and Charles Eau Clair were united in the holy bonds of matrimony with the ceremony at Trinity church. A sister, Miss Lizzie Green, attended the bride and Charles Westby served as best man. The wedding was solemnized by Rev. H. C. Boissier. The bride was gowned in a pretty dress of white cashmere and the bridesmaid wore blue silk. After the ceremony the bride party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Green, 5 Linden avenue, where congratulations were extended and the wedding repast was served. The parlor was prettily decorated with cream roses and the dining-room was in pink carnations and white ribbon. The young couple will reside with Mrs. Green and a host of friends wish them much happiness. Mr. Eau Clair is a worthy young man employed as painter by S. Hutchinson & Sons and his wife has long been in the service of the Thoroughgood Box Manufacturing company.

No Verdict Has Yet Been Reached,
Judge Belden Having Refused to Accept Disagreement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

DOES MUCH GOOD ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Belvidere Factory Owner Visited Be-loft and Accomplished an Errand of Mercy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., April 5.—Thursday afternoon J. W. Gossard, a factory owner from Belvidere, who was in the city trying to secure help for his cousin, visited a policeman if he knew of any poor man who was suffering. He explained he belonged to a Thursday club whose members on every Thursday tried to find some one whom they could aid. He was directed by the poor commissioner to Jimmy Fallows' home. Fallows is a well known character and is in suffering and need. Mr. Gossard gave the man a bath, bought food for him and assisted him materially.

Word has been received here that Elbert Lockridge, who graduated from the college in 1898, has just been made engineer in chief of the new Springfield, Mass., water works. He is to have entire charge of the establishment of the proposed system which includes an expenditure of some two million dollars.

BEAR COMPANY LTD. ORGANIZED IN CITY

City Marshal Appleby Received Two Three-Weeks-Old Bears from Hayward.

In order that the first steps might be taken towards the establishment of a Zoo in Janesville, the Bear Company Ltd., has been organized and a nucleus in the shape of two baby bears has been received by its President, William H. Appleby. These little fellows are not much larger than kittens and are but three weeks old. A dry nurse in the shape of a bottle and nipple and a couple of quarts of milk have been secured and a corner of the police station transformed into a temporary home for the little creatures. Later when the weather is warmer they will probably be transferred to a cage out of doors where their antics will amuse many. The bears came from the Indian reservation near Hayward and arrived this morning in a small packing box. They are both lively little fellows, a trifle wobbly on their feet, but great eaters. President Appleby of the Bear Company Ltd., is not certain whether any other animals will be added to the Zoo just at present or not. In fact, he does not know whether he wants any more additions until the present nucleus are a bit bigger. It is suggested that the company make a deal with the county board and establish the animals in a genuine bear pit in the courthouse park where all may see them. A meeting of the Ltd. company will be held this evening to discuss and examine the animals and decide what shall be done.

JEROME WILL NOT SEEK A DECISION

Decided Merely to Argue Before Judge Fitzgerald on Monday Regarding Case.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, April 5.—It is learned from an authoritative source this afternoon that District Attorney Jerome will not apply to the appellate division of the supreme court for a writ of prohibition against a continuance of the Thaw trial. Jerome will argue before Justice Fitzgerald on Monday against a confirmation of the report of the commission in lunacy. At the conclusion of the argument the summing up in the case will probably be proceeded with.

RAIL STRIKE IS AVERTED

MANAGERS AND TRAINMEN AT CHICAGO REACH AGREEMENT.

Commissioners Knapp and Neill, Sent by Roosevelt, Bring About the Settlement.

Chicago, April 5.—It was announced at 2:25 Thursday afternoon that the general managers of 42 western railroads and the committee of the union conductors and trainmen had reached a settlement at 1:30 p. m., and all danger of a strike, which for several weeks has threatened to tie up traffic in the west, had been averted.

The proposition on which the settlement was arranged was put forward by Commissioners Knapp and Neill, President Roosevelt's representatives in Chicago. The managers made a slight additional concession in the passenger service over their recent offer to the men and gained a ten-hour working day in the work-train service. The announcement has been made that the same conditions will apply on a settlement of the controversy between the managers and the locomotive firemen.

The managers acted on the settlement proposal at the Auditorium Annex hotel. Grand Chiefs Morrissey and Garretson approved it at the Chamber house.

Washington, April 5.—The following correspondence regarding the settlement of the strike on the western railroads entering Chicago was made public Thursday night:

"Chicago, April 4, 1907.—President Roosevelt, Washington: Complete settlement effected, result highly satisfactory. A distinct triumph for government mediation.

"MARTIN A. KNAPP,
Chairman Interstate Commerce Commission.

"CHARLES P. NEILL,
Commissioner of Labor."

The president's reply:

"Washington, April 4, 1907.—Hon. Martin A. Knapp, Chairman Interstate Commerce Commission, Hon. Charles P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor, Chicago: Am greatly pleased and heartily congratulate you both.

POET LAUREATE OF ENGLAND TO TODAY

Algernon Charles Swinburne Has Been Writing Verse For the Past Forty Years.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, April 5.—Algernon Charles Swinburne, England's poet laureate, was seventy years old today. Though he has been writing for upwards of forty years his poetic gifts were not generally recognized until a much later date. His first literary efforts, in fact, fell very flat. His radical opinions militated for a long time against his success in the higher circles of society, but his undeniable genius finally won over all obstacles. For a quarter of a century the poet has lived quietly at The Pines, on the edge of Wimbledon Common, where his slight figure has long been familiar to those who dwell in the neighborhood. Zealous admirers of Mr. Swinburne's poetry are to be seen daily wandering about the common in the hope of getting a glimpse of the writer who by general consent is the chief living representative of English poetry.

LAURIER GOING TO COLONIAL CONGRESS

As Representative of Canada He Will Plead For Preferential Trade
With England.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Ottawa, Ont., April 5.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Frederick Borden are among the passengers hooked to sail on the Empress of Britain from St. John today. They go to London as the Canadian representatives at the Colonial Conference which is to begin its sessions ten days hence. Sir Wilfrid has already taken occasion to make plain the policy he will follow in regard to the chief questions that are to be brought before the conference. He is of the opinion that the question of preferential trade is the one important matter in which Canada is vitally interested. In regard to this question the premier proposed to follow the same policy which he advocated at the conference held five years ago, namely, to give the British people a preference under the tariff laws of Canada. Should the home country and the other colonies be willing to reciprocate Sir Wilfrid says that Canada would then be willing to go a step farther in its preference. In regard to the questions of imperial defense, immigration and a majority of the other issues that are to be discussed, Canada will not take a prominent part, being satisfied for the most part with the conditions as they exist at present.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Dayton, O., April 5.—William H. Huffman, a veteran of the Civil war, ran amuck at the Soldiers' home last night and stabbed five veterans while they were asleep. Huffman thought the wounded men were plotting to kill him. The guards had a terrible struggle before they overpowered him. Two of his victims are in a critical condition.

JURY BELIEVES DIETZ MORE OR LESS INSANE

Asks Governor "To End Anarchy At Cameron Dam" By Sending Sufficient Militia
To Arrest Outlaw.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chippewa Falls, Wis., April 5.—John F. Dietz, the noted outlaw of Cameron dam, was this morning indicted on three counts. One charge is resisting an officer of the law and the two others are attempts at murder.

Dietz Has No Claim

The jury that returned these findings reported that Dietz has no right to the Cameron dam and that in attempting to hold up the Chippewa Lumber and Boom company, as he has done during the past two years, he is violating the laws.

Dietz an Anarchist

The jury declares its belief that Dietz is more or less insane and recommends that the state send sufficient militia to capture him. It further asks that Governor Davidson end this anarchy at Cameron dam.

OKLAHOMA POLITICIANS SEEK DEMMY NOMINATIONS

Three Candidates For Gubernatorial Place On Ticket At First Election Of New State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Guthrie, Okla., April 5.—The prevailing belief that the democrats have the better chance of success at the first election in the new state of Oklahoma has resulted in a rush of candidates seeking office under the banner of that party. Democratic success in the municipal elections this week has served to increase the confidence of the party leaders.

The three men whose names are now most prominently mentioned for governor on the democratic side are Lee Cruce, of Ardmore, C. N. Haskell of Muskogee, and J. A. Kelso of Enid. All signs at present lead to the belief that either Haskell or Cruce will secure the nomination at the primaries in August.

Mr. Cruce is a banker and a man of affairs in the Choctaw Nation and is president of the United Commercial organizations of both territories. Mr. Haskell first came into prominence as a politician in the Sequoyah convention last year and took a prominent part in the recent constitutional convention.

In addition to the candidates for governor there are two or more avowed aspirants for all the other places on the democratic ticket, including lieutenant governor, state treasurer, attorney general, secretary of state, state mine inspector, railroad commissioners, state superintendent of public instruction, and justice of the supreme court.

This activity on the part of the democrats with political ambitions is in striking contrast to the lethargy displayed by a majority of the republicans. The only avowed candidates on the republican side are those who announced themselves before the constitutional convention. The death of republican candidates is due largely to the uncertainty as to the attitude the party will assume toward the constitution and the legislative gerrymander which the best informed republicans concede will make it almost difficult to secure a republican majority in the first legislature. Furthermore the democratic cause is strengthened by the fact that that party purposes to make the condition their platform in the coming campaign.

Ohio Town May See Fighting Before Trouble

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

G., was assembled in the morning and the company is being put through the rapid fire drill. There has been no further disorder by the strikers today, but the authorities feared trouble will occur when two hundred strike-breakers arrive during the day.

AFTON

Afton, April 5.—License won by a majority of 30 last Tuesday; the vote
being 97 for license and 67 against.
Democracy was triumphant too in the
town, capturing all the offices but one
and lost that one by the narrow margin of one vote. This close finish
was in the race for treasurer, F. C.
Miller, renominated on the republican ticket, receiving 89 votes, while his democratic opponent, F. H. Inman, received 88. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:
Chairman, Fred Rehfeld; supervisors,
J. J. Busfield and James Connell;
town clerk, Edward J. Tracey; treasurer, Frank C. Miller; assessor, Geo.
Blum; justices, Joseph Williams, Albert Stark and C. J. Kilmer; constables,
Henry O'Leary, Fred Kethel,
John and T. H. Christman.

Five more applications for membership were voted on at the adjourned
meeting of Afton Camp No. 2192, Modern Woodmen of America, held last
Saturday evening, bringing the total
up to 13, with two more already handed in for presentation at the regular meeting to be held next Saturday
evening, April 6. This will make a fine class for adoption and will be a valuable addition to the membership of Afton camp, especially if all are successful in passing the medical examination. Those whose applications have been voted upon and accepted
are Ernest Antisdel, Roy Antisdel, Herman Behling, Floyd Drafsahl,
Charles Good, Ray B. Humphrey, Ben-
Lynn, Will McCarthy, Roy Millard,
Floyd Miller, Frank C. Miller, Harry

SHORT TALKS BY
L. T. COOPER.

CONSTIPATION.

I can tell a person who is constipated
on sight. Their complexion is pasty or yellow. Their eyes are dull, and they look

and feel sleepy.
No wonder they
do. The bowels
are a sewer.
They carry away the poisonous refuse.
If they don't
act the poisonous matter is absorbed by the body, and headaches, dullness, flat complexion, and eventually serious troubles result.

There is no better rule for good health than that the bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this. Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation effects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function.
As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped.
Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking this medicine get the habit of regularity,
then gradually stop taking the medicine.

Here is a sample of letters from those who have tried it:

"For sixteen years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always felt tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use. After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved. Constipation gave way to a pleasing regularity of the bowels and I am better, slept better and felt better than I had for months.
It is the greatest medicine I have ever known." Samuel Booren, 1742 Mansey Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Our customers who have used them
say the Cooper medicines do the work.

AFTON

Afton, April 5.—License won by a majority of 30 last Tuesday; the vote
being 97 for license and 67 against.
Democracy was triumphant too in the
town, capturing all the offices but one
and lost that one by the narrow margin of one vote. This close finish
was in the race for treasurer, F. C.
Miller, renominated on the republican
ticket, receiving 89 votes, while his
democratic opponent, F. H. Inman, received 88. The officers elected for
the ensuing year are as follows:
Chairman, Fred Rehfeld; supervisors,
J. J. Busfield and James Connell;
town clerk, Edward J. Tracey; treasurer, Frank C. Miller; assessor, Geo.
Blum; justices, Joseph Williams, Albert Stark and C. J. Kilmer; constables,
Henry O'Leary, Fred Kethel,
John and T. H. Christman.

Five more applications for member-
ship were voted on at the adjourned
meeting of Afton Camp No. 2192, Modern
Woodmen of America, held last
Saturday evening, bringing the total
up to 13, with two more already handed in for presentation at the regular
meeting to be held next Saturday
evening, April 6. This will make a fine class for adoption and will be a

CANADIAN LUMBER

MILLIONAIRE HALE

AND HEARTY AT 80

John R. Booth of Ottawa Enjoys Retrospection of His Success in Life.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ottawa, Ont., April 5.—John R.
Booth, one of the industrial kings of whom Canada is justly proud, celebrated his eightieth birthday today.
He bears the burden of his years
lightly and is still in personal charge of the vast industries out of which he has made millions of dollars.

Mr. Booth is the foremost lumberman of Canada. His timber lands aggregate 4,250 square miles, and if gregated in a line would make a strip one mile wide from the Atlantic to the Pacific across Canada. His great mills employ 1,500 to 1,600 men during the summer, or saving season, and 400 in the winter, while in the latter season there are between 2,000 and 3-000 men and 1,000 horses at work in the woods, felling his great trees which ultimately reach his lumber yards. Most of his timber lands are adjacent to the upper Ottawa, in both Ontario and Quebec. As a boy in the eastern part of Quebec, where he was born, his mind ran to waterwheels, and his boyish diversions were along the line of building miniature devices to use the power of running water in the neighboring brook. Farm life did not appeal to him, and at the age of 21 he sought employment in the construction of the Central Vermont Railway, then being built across the international border, and he worked there for several years as a bridge carpenter.
Coming to Bytown, the present city of Ottawa, in 1852, he was attracted by the power possibilities of the Chaudiere Falls, and he has almost ever since been one of the largest users of its energies. He rented a small sawmill for a year, and then, when the owner wanted to raise the rent, he cancelled the arrangement and built a mill for himself. From this small beginning his business steadily grew until in a comparatively few years he became the "lumber king" of Canada. Mr. Booth's business activities, however, have not been confined entirely to the lumber industry. He built the Canadian Atlantic railway, a 400-mile road extending from Depot Harbor, a terminal town of his own creation on the Georgian Bay, to a junction with the Boston &
Ottawa railway, near Swanton, Vermont, passing through Ottawa and having connections with Montreal.
This road Mr. Booth sold a short time ago to the Grand Trunk Railway for $16,000,000.

Most of the farmers in this locality
have begun their spring plowing.

Mrs. Herman Levzow, who suffered an attack of appendicitis, is reported on the gain.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Andrew now ride in a fine new rubber-tired buggy.

Ray Townsend spent Sunday at home.

Miss Minnie Edwards is spending
her Easter vacation at home.

Election passed off Tuesday "without a great deal of excitement in this vicinity."

At the "Hard Times" Dance Given by Fraternal Aid Association

Last Evening,
Guests of Rock Council No. 730,

able, with one exception, to entertain the illusion of "hard times," even for a night, and only the members of the Knell & Hatch orchestra were disguised in hobo dress at the dance given at Assembly hall last evening.
The costumes worn by the "musicians" were immense. Al. Knell and George Hatch being the bright particular sartorial stars in the aggravation. About eighty couples were in attendance and despite the non-appearance of the unconventional garb expected, a delightful evening was enjoyed. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Al. Hill, William Russell, and L. J. Robb, and Patrick Crowley; and Al. Hill acted as the Judge MacArthur's Lectures.—Judge MacArthur's three historical lectures upon Mary, Queen of Scots, and the distinguished men and women of her period, was concluded last night. They have given great satisfaction to all who have attended them, and their learned author has added many warm admirers to his already scholarly attainments to his already long list of personal friends in Janesville. A possessing fine culture and literary taste, we know of no one who interests and instructs an audience from the platform for an hour, better than his honor.

CATARRH A UNIVERSAL BLOOD DISEASE

Catarrh is usually worse in winter, because of the cold, damp and suddenly changing climate. Colds are contracted, and neglected and as the secretions from the different inflamed membranes are absorbed into the blood the unpleasant symptoms of the disease commence. The nostrils are stopped up and a constant dropping of mucous back into the throat keeps up a continual hawking and spitting. The patient has dull headaches, ringing noises in the ears, and often slight fever and a depressed, half-sick feeling accompanies the disease. The blood becomes so fully charged with catarrhal matter that stomach troubles are brought on; the kidneys and bladder are affected, and if the blood is not purified of the poison the lungs become diseased because of the constant passage of impure blood through them. Catarrh cannot be cured with washes, sprays, inhalations and such treatment; these cannot reach the poison-laden blood where the real cause is located, and can only give temporary relief and comfort. A disease which affects the entire blood supply as does Catarrh, must be treated with a blood purifier. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Catarrh, which has grown to be a universal disease. It goes to the bottom of the trouble, rids the blood of the catarrhal matter, reinvigorates the circulation, and cures this disgusting disease permanently. When S. S. S. has purified the blood, every part of the system receives a supply of fresh, healthy blood; then the inflamed membranes heal and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Write for our book containing information about Catarrh, and ask for any medical advice you desire. No charge is made for either.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Threatening tonight, Saturday probably light snow in southeast portion.

RETIRED FROM THE FIELD

J. J. Hill, one of the greatest railway men that the nation ever produced, has retired from the presidency of his great system, and is succeeded by his son, Mr. Hill took hold of the Great Northern when it was in bankrupt condition, and by his splendid energy and marked ability, made it one of the best railway properties in the country.

He accomplished more than this, for he put the nation in touch with the oriental trade by building two ocean freighters at an expense of $7,000,000. One of the boats, the Dakota, was recently wrecked, and Mr. Hill says that it will not be replaced as it is cheaper to ship American products in Japanese bottoms.

Mr. Hill has long enjoyed the reputation of being an honest man. Some years ago he entered Wall street for the purpose of gaining control of the stock of a western road. The street was against him and a bitter fight ensued. J. H. Todd, a writer for "Human Life," thus describes the man under fire:

"Never was the moral courage of a man put to severer test than when James J. Hill engaged powerful Wall street interests for control of a leading western line. It was the battle that culminated in panic and ruined fortunes. Dealers in stock need only say 'May 9,' and every one of them knows what it means. It is a tragically historical day for speculators, and Mr. Hill came forth from it emboldened a hero.

"Through all the swirl and stress of that storm Mr. Hill was absolutely fearless and unflinching. He was not a speculator. He was playing a thrilling game for a legitimate stake. It was not a life and death struggle, but success for him meant the mastery of interests that were vital to his plans. Once his closest friends had given up the fight and believed the Wall street crowd would overwhelm and crush this man who came out of the west to give battle to his antagonists on their own ground.

"And Mr. Hill would have lost if he had not had friends who put loyalty above greed. One of these friends was in Aix-les-Bains, France, at the time. Representatives of the Wall street interests went thither at the critical stage of the fight and offered him double the actual value of his holdings in the Hill properties. It meant a clear gain of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 to this man to sell out, but the old Scotch sense of honor, gratitude and friendship rose to the surface.

"Gentlemen," he said, "you have come to the wrong man. I have millions enough. I don't need any more. Jim Hill helped me make those millions. He is my friend and I will not desert him now. I decline your offer with thanks."

"This was the curt message which the scouts of Wall street were given to carry back to headquarters. There were other friends as staunch and true as this sturdy old Scot, and because of their loyalty Mr. Hill returned to the west the biggest single magnate of them all. He had shown himself the cool, masterful general who had outflanked and outwitted the enemy in every maneuver."

Hill retires with a fortune of 100 millions or more, but he is the most popular man in the northwest. He has been on intimate terms with the farmers, all along his line, and has helped them in so many ways, that they regard him as a personal friend.

His wife was his servant girl forty years ago. After they were engaged he, educated her at a private school and the home which they have long enjoyed has been an ideal home. Nine children blessed the union, and all are living today. Their house in St. Paul is a palace; the main hall extending through the center 190 feet, with spacious rooms to correspond, yet the family is not aristocratic.

Mr. Hill is an approachable man, and his office is the rendezvous for the farmers and shippers of the great northwest. He helps people by helping them to help themselves, and thus bestows the most intelligent charity.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING

People who have crossed the Rockies, on their way to the coast, have been impressed with the wonderful feats of engineering, which have overcome difficulties that seemed insurmountable.

The mountain is no longer an obstacle in railroad building, but there are other obstacles, more formidable, which are yet to be overcome. One of these is now being undertaken by Mr. Flieger, the man who owns the East Coast line in Florida, and who controls the roads in the state.

Miami, 300 miles south of Jacksonville, has long been the terminal of the East Coast road. Surveys have been made through the swamps and keys to Key West, 126 miles south, and 60 miles of the road is now completed. A correspondent for Moody's magazine recently went over the route, and writes the following interesting article:

"Within less than three years it will be possible to board a sleeping car in Chicago and travel without change to Havana, Cuba. That possibility will mark the practical completion of the Key West extension of the Florida East Coast railway from Miami southward 126 miles to the farthest outpost of the sickle-shaped chain of islets which curves around the southern extremity of Florida. Engineers who have had to deal with big problems in railroad building, pronounce this one of the most noteworthy feats undertaken by any transportation system in recent years. 'The difficulties to be overcome are nothing short of monumental. All material, including the broken stone for the concrete, must be shipped by boat from Miami, near which town it is quarried, and the same is true of all fuel supplies and water for the men upon the work. In many places, in order to get supplies to the excavators, the supply boats have to travel 5 or 9 miles out of their way to reach a point not over a mile distant in a straight line. Every drop of water used by the men and machinery has been, and still continues to be, transported in tanks more than 100 miles.

"At Key West, about 170 acres in the shallow water is being bulkheaded and filled in by two large dredges. This fill will be used for extensive docks and terminals from which an ocean-going ferry will transport cars directly to Havana.

"The present plans include the construction at Key West of one large dry-dock and ten wharves, each 300 feet long and 100 feet wide, with basins 200 feet wide between, in which the depth of the water will be from 20 to 40 feet. The great piers will afford berths for 40 boats 400 feet long.

"With the harbor facilities afforded by the work in contemplation, it is expected that Key West will almost immediately rank with New Orleans, Mobile and Galveston as a commercial port, and that a large proportion of the passenger, fast freight, and express business between Cuba and the United States will be secured to the road, as well as a fair share of the great volume of shipping that will some day be going through the Panama canal."

This road is being built through the everglades and keys of Florida, where the land is so near the sea level, that much of it is submerged at high tide. It will be largely a trestle roadbed, with drawbridges crossing numerous passes running in from the gulf. When completed, a trip to Cuba in a Chicago sleeper will be popular, and but little thought will be given to the obstacles which are now confronting the builders.

At a meeting of the directors of the Bethlehem Steel Co. recently held the fact was disclosed that armor plate for battleships was being made at a loss. The company has just completed three ships of this class at the San Francisco yards at a net loss of $1,735,000, and Mr. Schwab, the president, says that the company will retire from the field on this class of work. It is well for the government that the project to build a steel plant was abandoned.

A list of letters was sent out by Collier's magazine to members of the United States senate, asking for opinions concerning President Roosevelt as a possibility for the senate from New York, when his term of office expires. The answers were largely non-committal and disappointing. Collier's should have discovered ere this, that the President is not popular in the senate.

The city of Chicago will take on new life under the new administration, and the taxpayers will have the satisfaction of knowing that property interests will be regarded as sacred, while the teachers in the public schools will be able to give more time to honest work and less to agitation.

Lasts---For Men

Eighty per cent of the shoes being worn today are Low Cut. This demand calls for unusual skill in the making, as an ill-fitting Oxford is the most uncomfortable and ungainly thing imaginable. PERFECTION is only reached by very few manufacturers of oxfords and then but by specializing not only oxford style itself but the every little detail that stamps the finished shoe. It is to these "particular" things that we direct your interest, and the all-important amongst these is the 'HUG' around the ANKLE. This is the latest improvement of the Low Cut and makes possible its lasting popularity.

ALL SPOKE WELL OF THE WORK.

In a little conversation recently a lady said:

"Dr. Richards, a queer coincidence occurred a little while ago at a party I attended."

"A number of us ladies were sitting together in the corner and we spoke of having just been to the dentist's."

"Where did you go?" one asked.

"To Dr. Richards," was the reply.

"Why, that's my dentist," said she.

"He does my work too," spoke up a third.

"Mine too," said the fourth.

"And mine," said the fifth.

And sure enough, all five ladies were patients of Dr. Richards.

"Well," said Dr. Richards, "what did they say as to my work?"

"They all liked your work and spoke well of you," she replied.

For no dentist takes more pains to avoid hurting than he.

No dentist does better work.

No dentist is more reasonable in his charges.

Such a combination ought to make people speak well of his work.

Try him yourself, for your next needed dentistry.

DEAD MAN UNDER BRIDGE NO. 130

UNKNOWN YOUTH MET WITH A MYSTERIOUS FATE.

FIVE MILES SOUTH OF HERE

Train Crew on 582 Made the Grew some Discovery at Seven o'clock This Morning.

As North-Western freight train 582, Conductor William Sage and Rear Brakeman James Dec, passed over bridge No. 130 which spans an ancient creek-bottom on Matthew Temple's farm, located about five miles southeast of Janesville and 3/4 miles northwest of Shopiere, at seven o'clock this morning, one of the crew caught a glimpse of the body of a man stretched out on the rocks 21 feet below. The train was immediately stopped and an investigation made. At first glance it seemed to be a simple case of some wayward stepping or stumbling of the high masonry and dropping or plunging to a frightful death in the darkness. Yet whatever evidence there was to substantiate this theory was of a negative character. The train crew searched the dead man's pockets in vain for some letter or notebook which might give a clue to his identity. Matthew Temple, attracted to the scene by the stopping of the train, learned for the first time of the tragedy which had occurred within earshot of his doorstep some time during the night. He was sure that it had occurred since chore time, Thursday evening, as he and his sons had driven their teams under the bridge as late as seven o'clock, returning from their ploughing on the other side of the track. The body was left in the position in which it had been found and the train went on to Shopiere from which point Station Agent H. F. Bixby notified the authorities at Janesville.

Authorities Called to Scene
District Attorney J. L. Fisher, Undersheriff George Appleby, and a representative of the Gazette returned for the scene shortly after nine o'clock. They found, upon their arrival, a little group of railroad men and farmers grouped about the body of a young man of perhaps 28 or 30 years of age, lying flat on the back with blue eyes partly open to the sky, clean shaven, with low forehead which sloped back a considerable distance to a shock of fair hair, nose small and slightly tilted upward with disproportionately large nostrils, well-shaped hands clutching the rocky bed of the left foot drawn up and bent at the knee in the last struggle. There was a wound which indicated a severe impact just above the left temple; the left hand and the left wrist encased in a leather supporter were badly lacerated, and likewise the right hand; some blood had issued from the left ear and congested; but there were no other external indications to tell just what had been the direct cause of death. Singularly enough there was no blood on the stones, save a drop or two that had fallen from the ear, to indicate that the body had not fallen to the precise position in which it lay.

Strange Position of Corpse
The railroad runs from the northwest to the southeast. The body was stretched out from southwest to northeast with the head within a very few inches of the south wall of masonry supporting the bridge and only a few inches north of an imaginary perpendicular line projected downward from the outer edge of the bridge timbers. Had the man been struck by an outboard train he would presumably have been thrown some distance north of the track. A way-farer bound for Janesville and stepping off the high way might have slid down to the position outlined but the cuts and bruises would still remain to be accounted for. A person looking for evidences of a crime would be led to conjecture that the dead man might either have been placed there or dropped from a passing train, but neither theory seems plausible with the total absence of apparent motive.

No Evidence of Identity
The stranger was attired in a blue jersey with a piece of rope tied about the neck to keep it from sagging, a fairly neat suit of clothes, and a careful search yielded only a thin black cloth cap such as is worn by machinists, a red bandana handkerchief, a pipe and a stub of a cigar. His hat-band bore the printed trademark of Julius Hoppe, Baraboo, Wis. O. W. Mayl, section foreman at Shopiere, thought that the man bore some resemblance to Homer Latta, a mail carrier of Clinton, but it was learned upon inquiry that Latta was attending to his duties as usual this morning.

Medical Examination
Dr. J. F. Pember was called to the scene and made an examination. The body was removed to the city and placed in Ryan's undertaking rooms, where a detailed investigation by Drs. Pember and Gibson was made this afternoon. There were no developments of a startling nature. Whether or not an inquest will be held has not been decided.

The doctors found that the left shoulder was broken and the skull fractured on the left side. Both knees were lacerated and there is a scar on the chin. The suit of clothes was also bought of Hoppe in Baraboo.

Danderine

GREW MISS LEWIS' HAIR

AND WE CAN PROVE IT

The Great Danderine Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results

MISS Lewis' hair was very thin and it was less than two feet in length when she began using Danderine. She says her hair and scalp are now fairly teeming with new life and vigor. That's the main secret of this great remedy's success as a hair grower. It enlivens, invigorates and fairly electrifies the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, causing unusual and unheard-of activity on the part of these two most important organs, resulting in a strenuous and continuous growth of the hair.

The following is a reproduction of Miss Lewis' last letter:

Dear Doctor Knowlton:—
January 3, 1905.
You know I told you in my first letter that my hair would not reach much below my shoulders, and that all of it together only made one tiny braid.
I am sending you my photograph, which I had taken at Stevens Bros. It tells the whole story better than I can tell it.
Everybody I know is using Danderine, so you see I am doing something to show my appreciation.
Sincerely yours, (Miss) EVA LEWIS.

Danderine makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy the world has ever known. It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes,
25 cents, 50 cents and $1. per bottle

FREE.

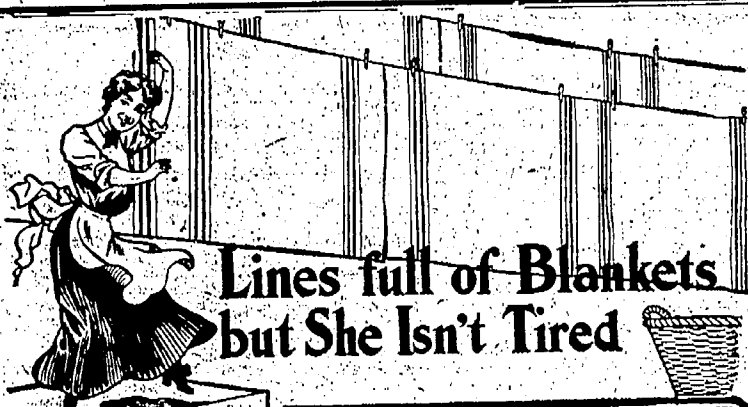

To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

Chicago, Record-Herald: John Weaver has ceased to be mayor of Philadelphia. For a short time there were indications that Weaver was going to become a great man. He possesses a projecting chin, but unfortunately he lacks a backbone and a few of the other things that greatness demands. He will be remembered, if he is remembered at all, as a man who missed a glorious opportunity.

Beach's Peosta Soap

No need of dreading the heavy work. Several pairs of blankets are no burden when done The Peosta Way—they come clean at once, can be put through quickly, which prevents shrinking, the wringer does the only hard part—and they are ready for the line.

Do all your work The Peosta Way, quicker—better.

For Blankets, proceed as for Flannels (see Ad. No. 9) except that the first sud should be quite thick, the second about half as strong, and a little soap used in the final rinsing water. If soiled spots do not wash out with squeezing, in suds, lay soiled portion over palm of hand and wash with a clean brush. This will not thicken, like rubbing between hands or on scrub board.
